

Sustainability Ambassadors

A group of seven young people, three men and four women, are running across a large, green lawn. They are all holding hands and appear to be in motion, possibly participating in a race or a group activity. They are dressed in casual summer attire like t-shirts, tank tops, and jeans. In the background, there are several large, mature trees and a multi-story building with windows. The sky is clear and blue. The overall scene is bright and sunny.
